Statements that are not Questioned.

The City Directory is the most effective and most economical method of reaching all the people all the time. Those who buy without looking at the list of those who sell do themselves great injustice. The classified lists in the Business Directory form the best Buyers Guide on earth. A modern up to date method of getting what you want. Polk.

Department of Directories

WILSON H. LEE, Chairman

Adopted by the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, Toronto, June 21, 1914.

The publisher of a directory should dedicate his best efforts to the cause of business uplift and social service, and to this end should pledge himself:

1. To consider, first, the interests of the user of the book.

2. To subscribe to and work for truth, honesty and accuracy in all departments.

3. To avoid confusing duplication of listings, endeavoring to classify every concern under the one heading that best describes it, and to treat additional listings as advertising, to be charged for at regular rates.

4. To increase public knowledge of what directories contain; to study public needs and make directories to supply them; to revise and standardize methods and classifications, so that what is wanted may be most easily found, and the directory be made to serve its fullest use as a business and social reference book and director of buyer to seller.

5. To decline any advertisment which has a tendency to mislead or which does not conform to business integrity.

6. To solicit subscriptions and advertising solely upon the merits the publication.

7. To avoid misrepresentation by statement or inference regarding circulation, placing the test of reference publicity upon its accessibility to seekers, rather than on the number of copies sold.

8. To co-operate with approved organizations and individuals engaged in creative advertising work.

9. To avoid unfair competition.

10. To determine what is the highest and largest function of directories in public service, and then to strive in every legitimate way to promote that function.

PREFACE

Furnished by the

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE—GEORGE GREEN, Sec

NEW BERN, NORTH CAROLINA, is situated on a beautiful peninsular at the juncture of the Neuse and the Trent rivers. It is only thirty-five miles from the Atlantic Ocean, and thus the influence of the gulf stream, that almost washes the shores of North Carolina, is felt the whole year, especially in the winter months when the climate is noted for its mildness. Thousands of tourists who have stopped over in New Bern while enroute to those much advertised winter resorts of the far South, have remained and spent the entire winter season here, for to their surprise and delight they found in New Bern just what they only expected to find in those States bordering on the Gulf of Mexico.

The population of New Bern is given by the census report of 1910 at 9,961, but a conservative estimate of the population at this time is at least 15,000.

New Bern is distinctly a city of homes, and as a place of residence it is absolutely unsurpassed. With sunshine the year through, balmy breezes in summer and winter, delightful climatic conditions, perfection in drainage, roads, parks, gas and electric plants, street-car system, and all other features essential to a place of residence. The city is compactly built, until a few years ago everybody trying to get homes down town. With the building of an electric car system, and the extension of the lines to all parts of the city, reaching the limits and beyond at several points, there has been a wonderful spreading out, and hundreds of families who for years remained in cramped quarters and the congested section of the city, now reside outside of the corporation, but within a few minutes' ride to the business section of the city.

New Bern has kept fully apace with the progress so prevalent in the South today. Over $1,000,000 have been expended here in a short period. Among the recent improvements are three churches, a handsome bank building, tobacco warehouse, twenty-five miles of concrete sidewalks with granite curbing and thirty-five blocks paved with vitrified brick, new factories, lumber mills, school buildings, a reinforced concrete block of five large stores, and a number of modern brick stores, a new union passenger station and railroad shops.

There are no less than sixteen lumber mills located around the city. In addition to these there are four fertilizer factories, two ice plants, large cotton oil mill, and factories manufacturing agricultural implements, boxes, barrels, baskets, carriages, boilers and machinery.

New Bern, long known as the "Athens of North Carolina," has an excellent system of graded schools. The buildings are all modern, well located with a view to the convenience of the pupils, have every comfort and are built with special care to the convenience and health of teachers and pupils. A diploma from the New Bern public schools entitiles the holder to entrance without examination to all the State Colleges and the University. So high is the curriculum and so perfect is the system in vogue here, that every year hundreds of people move to the city from other places, attracted here more on account of the unexcelled school facilities offered their children than any other motive.

No city in the South can boast of a purer moral atmosphere than New Bern. It is noted for its magnificent churches. Every denomination that has a following in this immediate section of the South has comfortable houses of worship. The churches are not only costly edifices showing the pride of the membership, but the membership is of the very largest. Associated with each congregation are the usual aid and other societies for the work of religious extension here and in other fields.

New Bern is well represented by the fraternal orders. The Elks' Home, which occupies the fifth floor of the handsome Elks' Temple, is considered one of the most beautiful and comfortable club rooms in the South. The Odd Fellows, Masons, Knights of Pythias, Red Men, Woodmen and others, all have large branches here, and much fine work is done by the membership of these orders.

The vicinity of New Bern offers exceptional advantages to those interested in farming. Nowhere in the United States may be found so varied a production of crops as here, where fertility of soil admits of three or four crops being grown on same land in a season. Everything required is grown, and crops are cultivated every month of the year. Alfalfa grows luxuriantly, yielding five or six cuts annually, at great profit and little expense. Here agriculture is a science and the possibilities are limited only to a man's capacity to cultivate and harvest nature's bountiful production.

The Chamber of Commerce, New Bern's live and progressive commercial organization, is an active and potent factor in the development of New Bern, and surrounding territory, and is giving the city a more wide-spread publicity and greater prominence thgn it has ever heretofore achieved. It has nicely fitted up rooms over the Mitchell Building, and visitors are always welcome.

Persons desiring to escape the rigors of a cold climate, where farming is restricted or where the price of land is prohibitive, are invited to visit New Bern and investigate the opportunities it offers to home-seekers and investors.

Fine Crops of Tobacco

can be raised if the ground is properly prepared before setting out the plants, and you liberally

Use

Virginia-Carolina

High-Grade

Fertilizers

Then you should nourish the crop at frequent intervals during the growing period with the same plant food. Work well, being careful to feed the crop with only Virginia-Carolina Fertilizers, made especially for tobacco. This will insure a big crop of fine, high-grade tobacco that will yield big money.

Profitable farming is fully explained in our new free FARMERS' YEAR BOOK, or almanac, and it is yours for the asking.
